

European Cartoon Animation Association

The European Cartoon Animation Association aims at promoting Europe among its youth, familiarizing them with the construction of Europe and its current issues.

ECA's teaching aids and workshops on Europe deepen young people's knowledge about the European Union, help them discover its cultural diversity by means of original information materials and interactive methods.

It also encourages young people to create a dialog between themselves, to be involved in community life, and to discover other cultures and international mobility.

These teaching workshops enhance the feeling of belonging to the European Union among young people and develop their notions of "European identity and citizenship".

★ Workshops on Europe + its cultures

The ECA team organises and moderates European Days targeting children and young people within schools and youth organisations.

Our young and dynamic moderators offer flexible and close interaction with young people. They are all polyglot and give a good image of the European diversity through their multicultural origins and extensive experience of European mobility.

These workshops consist first of a fun presentation of the Foundation of Europe with an animated presentation with which the participants discover the history of the Union, its goals, its achievements and its values through an analysis of pictures and caricatures.

This presentation is used as an aid to start a discussion with the participants about the role of the European Union and its current issues.

Interactive application games and role play about the EU's current challenges, the member states, their inhabitants and their cultures follow this presentation so that the participants assimilate knowledge while having fun.

Teaching aids on Europe

The ECA association creates teaching aids to offer children an original and attractive European education.

From January 2007, European children will discover the adventures of Fico, Leokadia, Keyv, Zoe & Micha with our CARTOON : the European Adventure.

This cheerful team will enable children to learn about Europe in a fun and attractive way. This cartoon will broach all the European History, from the myth of Zeus & Europe to Romania's and Bulgaria's membership.

Our team also carries out an interactive BOOK on the Foundation of Europe with the heroes of the cartoon. This book will include many illustrations and application games to enable children to test their knowledge once they have read the book.

The cartoon and the book target 7-13 year-old children and will be offered as a teaching aid to schools and youth organisations.

For any further information on the workshops, the cartoon and the book, we invite you to visit our Web site :

European events for young Europeans

Our team organises European events gathering young people from different member states. We aim at making young Europeans meet each other, exchange opinions and discover other cultures.

During these events, the participants enjoy European cultural diversity and exchange ideas about the European Union and its current challenges during activities proposed and moderated by our team : debates, games, role play, European rallye, cultural evenings, concerts...

On May the 9th our team gathers young Europeans in the Hollenfels castle (Luxembourg) to celebrate Europe Day... let's join them !
